And the World Day of Prayer for the Sick.

Especially in this time of a worldwide pandemic, we pray for healing and we also we give thanks and recognition to those in health care ministry. O God, healer of body, mind, and soul, help us never to forget that your Spirit guides us, your heart consoles us, and your hands bring us consolation and hope. May the thread of your love be interwoven with the love of our friends and families, and the support provided by all those who care for those in need. Guide us all to be signs of your loving presence and instruments of your healing. Look with compassion on all who are suffering in any way today: give them courage. We pray this in the name of Christ our Lord who lives and reigns with you now and always. Amen.
